TRAINING CAMP | MAY 20–24

This weeklong event in Springfield is the perfect opportunity to learn how to lead a Good Dads class while networking with community leaders to achieve the common goal of encouraging engaged fatherhood. Registration opens in soon at gooddads.com.

GROWING GOOD DADS

Our blog theme for 2024 will focus on child development milestones and parenting advice—written for and about fathers. Each month we'll explore a new theme, from before birth all the way to young adulthood. Catch a new blog every week on our website and in our newsletter!

GOOD DADS GREAT COMMUNITIES

We're refreshing, rebranding and revising our community development course to better align with our organization's fast-paced growth. Soon, we'll announce new multimedia projects as we endeavor to offer services to fathers in more communities throughout Missouri and beyond.

GOOD DADS IS GROWING!

Between serving at-risk fathers, encouraging dads to be involved during their kids' elementary years, supporting working fathers in transportation and manufacturing settings, and expanding our services to new communities, it's safe to say there's never a dull moment at Good Dads. We're growing at break-neck speed at our small but mighty organization, and we're so excited for what the future has in store! Whether you've championed our goals through financial or in-kind donations, or even if you've just been rooting for us from the sidelines, we hope you'll continue to support the work we do.

LIKE WHAT WE DO?

The best way to support our mission to help kids and communities one dad at time is to make a tax-deductible contribution. Scan the QR code to donate today!
