GOOD® DADS

HELPING KIDS AND COMMUNITIES ONE DAD AT A TIME!

That's our new tagline at Good Dads. We always knew we were helping kids when we helped their dads, but now we know we're doing much more than that. We have it on good authority that communities with a higher percentage of good dads are better places to live. That's why we're launching Good Dads Great Communities early this summer. In this brand-new program, we'll show why communities are safer, schools are stronger and local economies are more robust when more good dads live there. Not surprisingly, kids also do better in these locales.

But that's not all: Our new Great Communities program will help cities and counties across the country learn how they can form a Good Dads Chapter that enhances the place they live. The program is adaptable to communities large and small, which means you'll soon be hearing more about chapters from Ava to Rolla, Columbia to Kansas City. We couldn't be more excited about all the good things happening across Missouri as more of its citizens come together to promote the importance of father engagement through Good Dads.

Many people like to honor a special father or father-figure in their life in celebration of Father's Day. Since many men already have more t-shirts and ties than they can enjoy, why not honor a special dad in your life with a gift to Good Dads? Your gift will help us continue to expand across the state and beyond, creating more great communities across the country. Give online today by scanning the QR code below or by heading to gooddads.com and clicking on Donate.

Of course, we'd also like to recognize the many good dads who support our work, so feel free to share a photo of yourself with your father for a special Father's Day Edition of our e-newsletter. This is an easy way to let the dad or dad-figure in your life know just how special you think he is. Participating is easy: Simply e-mail your image and a short caption to info@gooddads.com.

Thank you for all you do to support Good Dads. The wonderful things happening all around us would simply not be possible without people like you.

Warmly,

Jennifer L. Baker PsyD
